In September 2023, the Department for Education (DfE) published an update of Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE). Which comes into force on 1st September 2023.

This is statutory guidance from the Department for Education issued under Section 175 of the Education Act 2002(as amended) and the Apprenticeships, Skills, Children & Learning Act 2009(as amended) Act 2021. Schools and colleges in England must have regard to it when carrying out their duties to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. For the purposes of this guidance children includes everyone under the age of 18

This UKTD policy document has been reviewed and updated to include the changes in KCSIE and Working together to safeguard Children, using department advise on What to do if you are worried a child is being abused.

An overview of the key points and updates are shown on page 5.

UKTD POLICY STATEMENT

1. UKTD will carry out its responsibilities under current legislation and statutory guidance for the protection of children, young people and adults at risk.
2. UKTD is committed to creating a culture of safety and ensuring that all staff understand that safeguarding is everyone's responsibility.
3. UKTD follows safer recruitment procedures in order to deter, reject or identify people who may harm or abuse children, young people or adults at risk.
4. UKTD will provide safeguarding and child protection training for all staff and ensure that everyone knows how to report a concern.
5. UKTD has in place a strict code of conduct for all staff, which is discussed and reinforced as part of safeguarding training.
6. UKTD will tell learners during their induction about the standard of behaviour and conduct they can expect from staff and what to do if they experience or suspect abuse.
7. UKTD will ensure that placement employers, trainers and staff working with learners on employer premises understand their responsibilities for safeguarding and follow the UKTD Employer's Guide to Safeguarding.
8. UKTD recognises and reinforces that it is the responsibility of all staff and employers to act upon any concern no matter how small or trivial it appears.
9. UKTD makes it a priority to ensure that the health, safety and wellbeing of all learners is in place throughout the learning programme.
10. UKTD will work with Safeguarding Partners when required, to ensure a co-ordinated approach to identifying concerns, sharing information and taking prompt action.
11. UKTD recognises that any child, young person or adult at risk can be subject to abuse and any allegations will be taken seriously and treated in accordance with the Safeguarding Procedure.

12. UKTD recognises its responsibility in implementing, maintaining and conducting regular reviews to ensure procedures work to prevent and/or take action if any suspected abuse.

POLICY SCOPE AND PURPOSE

This policy applies to all employed staff, contract or supply staff, volunteers, employer partners, their staff and trainers in learner workplaces, and to others who work in or on behalf of UKTD.

The purpose of this policy and accompanying Safeguarding Procedure is to ensure that:

- Staff are clear about their responsibilities for safeguarding and protecting all learners who access our delivery/apprenticeship services.
- Staff are particularly important, as they are in a position to identify concerns early, provide help for children and young people, promote children's welfare and prevent concerns from escalating.
- Staff are clear about the UKTD Code of Conduct and standards of behaviour expected.
- Staff are provided with the knowledge and support to be able to recognise, effectively report and escalate safeguarding concerns to the Designated Safeguarding Lead or a local Designated Safeguarding Officer (DSO).
- Safeguarding concerns are dealt with appropriately and only closed when we are certain the matter has been dealt with fully and the learner is safe.
- Employers and managers at learner work placements understand their responsibilities for safeguarding and follow the procedures that are set.

UKTD has procedures in place for responding to situations in which it is believed that a learner has been abused or is at risk of being abused. This also covers circumstances in which a member of staff or other worker is accused or suspected of abuse.

UKTD also recognises that children, young people and adults at risk may suffer harm from sources outside the company's control. Where signs of such harm are apparent, UKTD encourages these to be reported to an appropriate external agency.

This policy aims to:

- Inform all staff, employers and others working for or with UKTD regarding their responsibilities for safeguarding.
- Establish and maintain an environment where learners feel secure, are encouraged to talk, and are listened to when they have a worry or concern.
- Ensure all learners know there are staff at UKTD whom they can approach if they are concerned.
- Ensure all learners are taught about safeguarding at induction and throughout their training and given opportunities to discuss any concerns.
- Include opportunities for UKTD learners to develop the skills and knowledge they need to recognise and stay safe from abuse, including online safety.
- Enable everyone to have a clear understanding of how these responsibilities should be conducted.

UPDATED STATUTORY SAFEGUARDING GUIDANCE 2023

Working Together to safeguard Children (Dec 2023)

What schools and colleges must have regard to when carrying out their duties to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. For the purposes of this guidance children includes everyone under the age of 18.

Keeping Children Safe in Education (September 2023)

In 2023 the Department for Education (DfE) published an updated version of Keeping Children Safe in Education (KCSIE), setting out new statutory requirements and safeguarding arrangements.

This guidance replaces KCSIE 2022 and sets out what schools and colleges and independent training providers must have regard to when carrying out their duties to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. For the purposes of this guidance children includes everyone under the age of 18.

An overview of the key points and updates: KCSIE

• Part one: Safeguarding information for all staff.

- Updated Link to Behaviour in schools' guidance
- All staff should receive appropriate safeguarding and child protection training (including online safety which, amongst other things, includes an understanding of the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring at induction. The training should be regularly updated. In addition, all staff should receive safeguarding and child protection (including online safety) updates (for example, via email, e-bulletins, and staff meetings), as required, and at least annually, to continue to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively.

• Part Two: The management of safeguarding.

- Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure an appropriate senior member of staff, from the school or college leadership team, is appointed to the role of designated safeguarding lead.² It is not appropriate for the proprietor to be the designated safeguarding lead. The designated safeguarding lead should take lead responsibility for safeguarding and child protection (including online safety and understanding the filtering and monitoring systems and processes in place). This should be explicit in the role holder's job description.
- Governing bodies and proprietors should ensure that all staff undergo safeguarding and child protection training (including online safety which, amongst other things, includes an understanding of the expectations, applicable roles and responsibilities in relation to filtering and monitoring –at induction. The training should be regularly updated. Induction and training should be in line with any advice from the safeguarding partners
- Online safety and the school or college's approach to it should be reflected in the child protection policy which, amongst other things, should include appropriate filtering and monitoring on school devices and school networks. Considering the 4Cs will provide the basis of an effective online policy. The school or college should have a clear policy on the use of mobile and smart technology, which will also reflect the fact many children have unlimited and unrestricted access to the internet via mobile phone networks (i.e., 3G, 4G and 5G). This access means some children, whilst at school or college, sexually harass, bully, and control others via their mobile and smart technology, share indecent images consensually and non-consensually (often via large chat groups) and view and share pornography and other harmful content. Schools and colleges should carefully consider how this is managed on their premises and reflect this in their mobile and smart technology policy and their child protection policy.

- The appropriateness of any filtering and monitoring systems are a matter for individual schools and colleges and will be informed in part, by the risk assessment required by the Prevent Duty.
- Education settings are directly responsible for ensuring they have the appropriate level of security protection procedures in place in order to safeguard their systems, staff and learners and review the effectiveness of these procedures periodically to keep up with evolving cyber-crime technologies. Guidance on e-security is available from the National Education Network. In addition, schools and colleges should consider meeting the Cyber security standards for schools and colleges.GOV.UK. Broader guidance on cyber security including considerations for governors and trustees can be found at Cyber security training for school staff - NCSC.GOV.UK.
- Paragraph 167 has been updated to reference keeping children safe in out of school settings.
- Paragraph 175 Clarification provided on the difference between children missing education and children absent from education.
- Paragraph 202 additional signpost to specialist organisations for children with special educational needs and disabilities.

• Part Three: Safer recruitment.

- In addition, as part of the shortlisting process schools and colleges should consider carrying out an online search as part of their due diligence on the shortlisted candidates. This may help identify any incidents or issues that have happened, and are publicly available online, which the school or college might want to explore with the applicant at interview. Schools and colleges should inform shortlisted candidates that online searches may be done as part of due diligence checks. See Part two - Legislation and the Law for information on data protection and UK GDPR
- Copies of documents used to verify the successful candidate's identity, right to work and required qualifications should be kept on their personnel file as per the advice at paragraph 232. Copies of DBS certificates and records of criminal information disclosed by the candidate are covered by UK GDPR/DPA 2018 Article 10. To help schools and colleges comply with the requirements of the Data Protection Act 2018, when a school or college chooses to retain a copy, there should be a valid reason for doing so and it should not be kept for longer than six months. When the information is destroyed a school or college may keep a record of the fact that vetting was carried out, the result and the recruitment decision taken if they choose to. Schools and colleges do not have to keep copies of DBS certificates, in order to fulfil the duty of maintaining the single central record.

DEFINITIONS

Children - in law, a child is anyone under the age of 18. There is no legal definition of a 'young person' but UKTD recognises that this term is often used when referring to 16 – 18-year-olds.

Adult at Risk – is any person who is aged 18 years or over and at risk of abuse or neglect because of their needs for care and/or support.

Safeguarding – is the action that is taken to promote the welfare of children and protect them from harm. The definition of safeguarding in KCSIE 2023:

- protecting children from maltreatment.
- preventing impairment of children's mental and physical health or development.
- ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care; and
- taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

- Children includes everyone under the age of 18.

Child Protection - is part of safeguarding and promoting welfare and refers to the activity that is undertaken to protect specific children who are suffering, or are likely to suffer, significant harm.

Abuse - is a form of maltreatment towards a child or individual that deliberately or unknowingly causes that person harm or endangers their life through neglect by failing to prevent harm.

- 'Harm can include ill treatment that is not physical as well as the impact of witnessing ill treatment of others. This can be particularly relevant, for example, in relation to the impact on children of all forms of domestic abuse.' KCSIe 2022

It can be passive or active, a one-off or something that is repeated, and take place in person or online. "Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children."

Domestic Abuse - "Domestic abuse can encompass a wide range of behaviours and may be a single incident or a pattern of incidents. That abuse can be, but is not limited to, psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional. Children can be victims of domestic abuse. They may see, hear, or experience the effects of abuse at home and/or suffer domestic abuse in their own intimate relationships (teenage relationship abuse). All of which can have a detrimental and long-term impact on their health, well-being, development, and ability to learn." Domestic abuse act 2021

Neglect - "is the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development."

Prevent - Prevent is 1 of 4 parts of the UK Government's Counter-Terrorism Strategy (known as CONTEST) and "the purpose of Prevent is at its heart to safeguard and support vulnerable people to stop them from becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism". (CONTEST Strategy 2018)

The Prevent Duty All schools and colleges are subject to a duty under section 26 of the Counterterrorism and Security Act 2015 (the CTSA 2015), in the exercise of their functions, to have "due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism". This duty is known as the Prevent duty.

Channel - "is a voluntary, confidential support programme which focuses on providing support at an early stage to people who are identified as being vulnerable to being drawn into terrorism."

Radicalisation - "refers to the process by which a person comes to support terrorism and extremist ideologies associated with terrorist groups."

Extremism - "is the vocal or active opposition to our fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and the mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs This also includes calling for the death of members of the armed forces."

Terrorism - "is an action that endangers or causes serious violence to a person/people; causes serious damage to property; or seriously interferes or disrupts an electronic system. The use or threat must be designed to influence the government or to intimidate the public" and is made for the purpose of advancing a political, religious or ideological cause."

RECOGNISING SIGNS OF ABUSE

"Knowing what to look for is vital to the early identification of abuse and neglect."

It is important to recognise that abuse, neglect and safeguarding issues are rarely stand-alone events and there may be multiple issues that overlap. The list below shows some of the many forms of abuse and areas where there is cause for concern.

- : "All staff should be aware that children may not feel ready or know how to tell someone that they are being abused, exploited, or neglected, and/or they may not recognise their experiences as harmful. For example, children may feel embarrassed, humiliated, or being threatened. This could be due to their vulnerability, disability and/or sexual orientation or language barriers. This should not prevent staff from having a professional curiosity and speaking to the DSL if they have concerns about a child. It is also important that staff determine how best to build trusted relationships with children and young people which facilitate communication." KCSiE 2022

Safeguarding concerns may include, but not be limited to, one or more of the following:

- Sexual abuse, child sexual exploitation (CSE), child criminal exploitation (CCE)

Some possible signs of physical abuse:

- Unexplained injuries or burns, particularly if they are recurrent.

A child may be starved of love and affection or be constantly criticised or humiliated. This form of abuse may be difficult to recognise as the symptoms may be hidden and the abused person is withdrawn, introverted or depressed. It may be physical contact or non-contact such as “...involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse.”

(KCSIE 2020)

Some possible signs of sexual abuse:

It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs."* (KCSIE 2020)

- Emaciation, scavenging for food or clothes.
- Destructive tendencies
- Neurotic behaviour (e.g., rocking, hair twisting, thumb sucking)
- Frequent running away

SO-CALLED 'HONOUR BASED' ABUSE (HBA)

The Crown Prosecution Service (CPS) give the following definition of HBA:

“An incident or crime involving violence, threats of violence, intimidation coercion or abuse (including psychological, physical, sexual, financial or emotional abuse) which has or may have been committed to protect or defend the honour of an individual, family and/ or community for alleged or perceived breaches of the family and/or community’s code of behaviour.”

CPS - <https://www.cps.gov.uk/about-cps>

All forms of HBA are abuse (regardless of the motivation) and this includes female genital mutilation (FGM), forced marriage and practices such as breast ironing. It is important that crimes of this nature are handled with cultural sensitivity, and local police forces have specialist officers who can investigate and support victims. Contact 101 or dial 999 in an emergency.

Reporting HBA - If a staff member has a concern that a learner may be at risk of HBA or has suffered HBA, they must speak to the Lead Designated Safeguarding Officer (or local DSO) immediately, for action and escalation as required.

Female Genital Mutilation (FGM)

“FGM comprises all procedures involving partial or total removal of the external female genitalia or other injury to the female genital organs. It is illegal in the UK and a form of child abuse with long-lasting harmful consequences.” (KCSIE 2020)

FGM can also be known as 'female circumcision' or 'cutting', and a 'cutter' is the name given to someone who carries out FGM. It is a serious crime that is not required by any religion and there are no health benefits of FGM.

Indicators of FGM - A girl or woman who has had female genital mutilation may:

- have difficulty walking, standing or sitting.
- spend longer in the bathroom or toilet.
- appear withdrawn, anxious or depressed.
- have unusual behaviour after an absence from school or college.
- be particularly reluctant to undergo normal medical examinations.
- ask for help but may not be explicit about the problem due to embarrassment or fear.

Statutory Duty to Report Cases of FGM

“On 31 October 2015, a new duty was introduced that requires health and social care professionals and teachers to report 'known' cases of FGM in girls aged under 18 to the police.” (Home Office)

This may be discovered through disclosure by the victim or visual evidence (this would be rare for teachers and must not involve any form of examining).

The above duty does not apply in relation to at risk or suspected cases or in cases where the woman is 18 or over. In these cases, you must report your concerns to a Designated Safeguarding Officer, so appropriate action can be taken and the FGM Helpline contacted (0800 028 3550).

Further details regarding FGM can be found on the NSPCC website -

<https://www.nspcc.org.uk/what-is-child-abuse/types-of-abuse/female-genital-mutilation-fgm>

Forced Marriage

“Forcing a person into a marriage is a crime in England and Wales. A forced marriage is one entered into without the full and free consent of one or both parties and where violence, threats or any other form of coercion is used to cause a person to enter into a marriage.”

Threats can be physical or emotional and psychological and can include:

- taking someone overseas to force them to marry (whether or not the forced marriage takes place)
- marrying someone who lacks the mental capacity to consent to the marriage (whether they are pressured to or not)

The pressure put on people to marry against their will may be:

- physical – for example, threats, physical violence or sexual violence
- emotional and psychological – for example, making someone feel like they are bringing ‘shame’ on their family.

A forced marriage is vastly different to an arranged marriage, which is entered into freely by both people, although their families take a leading role in the choice of partner.

Breast Ironing

Breast ironing is a form of physical abuse carried out on girls at the start of puberty (as early as from 9 years old) with the aim of flattening and delaying the development of the breast tissue. It could potentially happen anywhere in the world although evidence has been found of it being practised in Cameroon and countries of western central Africa, Kenya and Zimbabwe. In many cases the practice of flattening, ironing, pummelling or pounding the breasts is carried out by the child’s mother, who believes that it is a good thing to protect their child, make them look less womanly and deter unwanted attention.

CHILD SEXUAL EXPLOITATION (CSE) & CHILD CRIMINAL EXPLOITATION (CCE)

"Both CSE and CCE are forms of abuse and both occur where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance in power to coerce, manipulate or deceive a child into sexual or criminal activity."

Some of the following signs may be indicators of CSE or CCE:

- children who appear with unexplained gifts or new possessions.
- children who associate with other young people involved in exploitation.
- children who suffer from changes in emotional well-being.
- children who misuse drugs and alcohol.
- children who go missing for periods of time or regularly come home late.
- children who regularly miss school or education or do not take part in education.

Child Sexual Exploitation (CSE)

In addition to the above possible indicators of child sexual exploitation, additional signs might be:

- children who have older boyfriends or girlfriends
- children who suffer from sexually transmitted infections or become pregnant.

This form of abuse does not have to involve physical contact for it to be classed as child sexual exploitation and, with the growth of the internet and advances in technology; it can take place and/or be facilitated online.

Key factors of CSE:

- It can affect any child or young person (male or female) under the age of 18 years, including 16- and 17-year-olds who can legally consent to have sex.
- It can still be abuse even if the sexual activity appears consensual.
- It can include both contact (penetrative and non-penetrative acts) and non-contact sexual activity.
- It can take place in person or via technology, or a combination of both.
- It can involve force and/or enticement-based methods of compliance and may, or may not, be accompanied by violence or threats of violence.
- It may occur without the child or young person's immediate knowledge (e.g., through others copying videos or images they have created and posted on social media).
- It can be perpetrated by individuals or groups, males or females, children or adults. The abuse can be a one-off occurrence or a series of incidents over time and range from opportunistic to complex organised abuse.

Child Criminal Exploitation (CCE)

"CCE is where an individual or group takes advantage of an imbalance of power to coerce, control, manipulate or deceive a child into any criminal activity (a) in exchange for something the victim needs or wants, and/or (b) for the financial or other advantage of the perpetrator or facilitator and/or (c) through violence or the threat of violence".

Children can be groomed and exploited by organised criminal gangs or networks to carry out tasks on their behalf in return for money, gifts, food, shelter or protection. This includes the growing area of county lines activity, explained below. It may not be immediately apparent to the child or young person that they are being exploited and they may feel they have found new friendships, emotional support and understanding or a sense of belonging.

If a staff member is concerned about any form of child exploitation, it must be reported to a Designated Safeguarding Officer immediately, for referral as appropriate.

COUNTY LINES AND SERIOUS VIOLENCE

"County lines is a term used to describe gangs and organised criminal networks involved in exporting illegal drugs using dedicated mobile phone lines or other form of 'deal line'." This activity can happen Locally as well as across the UK - no specified distance of travel is required. Children and vulnerable adults are exploited to move, store and sell drugs and money. Offenders will often use coercion, intimidation, violence (including sexual violence) and weapons to ensure compliance of victims.

Vulnerable children and adults are at risk of being targeted and recruited to store or move drugs or money. This form of exploitation may take place online or in a school or college environment. It may involve grooming and the giving of money or gifts and criminals may use threats or violence to control and ensure compliance of their victims, who feel trapped and fearful.

There has been a significant increase in the number of serious violent crimes taking place involving children and young people, including knife and gun crime. These incidents may be linked to county lines activities, drug dealing and drug misuse or to gang memberships, and some young people may believe that being part of these groups is the only way that they can be accepted and protect themselves.

The Government published its Serious Violence Strategy which aims to tackle county lines and the misuse of drugs and focus on supporting young people to stay away from crime.

"The strategy focuses on early intervention and prevention which can help catch young people before they go down the wrong path, encouraging them to make positive choices." (HM Gov 2018)

The following indicators may signal a child is at risk of or is involved in county lines or serious crime:

- increased absence from school or college
- change in friendships or relationships with older individuals or groups.
- a significant decline in performance
- signs of self-harm or a significant change in wellbeing
- signs of assault or unexplained injuries
- unexplained gifts or new possessions

CHILD ON CHILD ABUSE

“Children can abuse other children. This is generally referred to as Child-on-Child abuse and can take many forms. This can include (but is not limited to): abuse within intimate partner relationships; bullying (including cyberbullying); Homophobic, biphobic, transphobic bullying & abuse sexual violence and sexual harassment; physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm; sexting and initiation/hazing type violence and rituals.”

Child on Child Sexual Violence and Sexual Harassment

Sexual violence and sexual harassment between children is now included in KCSiE 2022 to provide staff with advice and information on what this might look like and what to do if they have a concern or receive a report.

In 2018 the NSPCC published their helpline report which showed that in 2016/17 the service provided over 3000 counselling sessions to children and young people concerned about being sexually assaulted by their peers. Experiences of this kind can be traumatic and distressing and it is essential that victims are reassured that they are being taken seriously, will be given support, and kept safe. It is also important that the wishes of the victim are considered, in terms of how they want to proceed.

- Sexual violence refers to the offences under the Sexual Offences Act 2003: rape, assault by penetration, sexual assault.
- Sexual harassment includes unwanted conduct of a sexual nature, sexual remarks, lewd comments, sexual jokes or taunting, displaying photos/images of a sexual nature, deliberately brushing against someone or interfering with someone’s clothes, and sexual harassment that takes place online, including sexualised bullying, non-consensual sharing of sexual images or videos, upskirting, unwanted sexual comments on social media, and sexual exploitation.

KCSiE also states that all staff should be aware of the importance of:

- making clear that sexual violence and sexual harassment is not acceptable, will never be tolerated and is not an inevitable part of growing up
- not tolerating or dismissing sexual violence or sexual harassment as “banter,” “part of growing up,” “just having a laugh” or “boys being boys”
- challenging behaviours (potentially criminal in nature), such as grabbing bottoms, breasts and genitalia, flicking bras and lifting up skirts. Dismissing or tolerating such behaviours risks normalising them.

MENTAL HEALTH

UKTD recognises the important role it plays in supporting the mental health and wellbeing of all learners. Everyone's response to bereavement, loss, anxiety, stress and trauma is different and a key role that all staff play is to be alert to any changes in behaviour or coursework progress and to recognise this may be a sign that a learner is struggling emotionally, experiencing a mental health problem, or is at risk of developing one. UKTD promote good mental and physical wellbeing through our 'British Values and Wellbeing Activities' and online tasks, giving learners opportunities to access information, support them on a number of topics and have discussions with their tutors.

Staff are not expected to be experts on mental health or to try and diagnose a condition, however, we are required to raise any concerns with a designated safeguarding officer and to report details of any concerning observations.

It is also important for all staff to recognise that mental health problems may be a possible indicator of a safeguarding concern:

"All staff should also be aware that mental health problems can, in some cases, be an indicator that a child has suffered or is at risk of suffering abuse, neglect or exploitation."

Guidance and support will be given by DSLs and UKTD safeguarding processes will be followed, including referring the learner to their GP; providing details of organisations who offer self-help and online support; wellbeing assessment tools e.g. NHS Every Mind Matters <https://www.nhs.uk/oneyou/every-mind-matters>; and ensuring the learner has emergency crisis support line details. DSLs will maintain contact with the learner and tutor throughout any periods of concern and will escalate to safeguarding partners or external agencies, as required. If the learner is in immediate danger of harming themselves or others around them, please contact the police immediately.

The following Public Health England and Department for Education documents also give excellent advice and guidance:

- Promoting children and young people's emotional health and wellbeing (PHE 2015)
- Mental health and behaviour in schools (DfE 2018)

ONLINE SAFETY

The use of and access to technology has increased so much in modern times, and even more so following Coronavirus where remote education, home working and online communication has increased hugely. Concerns can occur both online and offline simultaneously.

Online harm has become a significant component of many safeguarding issues and there are three areas of risk:

- 1) Content (being exposed to harmful material).
- 2) Contact (being subjected to harmful online interaction).
- 3) Conduct (harmful behaviour e.g., online bullying, misogynist and misandrist comments, sending/receiving explicit images).

As part of our ongoing commitment to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of all learners, we provide resources, awareness activities and online tasks to educate learners on the risks associated with using technology and how to stay safe. We also ask employers to work with us in helping learners to stay safe online, and we do all we reasonably can to limit learner exposure to online risks and have filters and monitoring systems in place.

If a learner experiences any form of cyber-bullying or online risk, this needs to be reported to a Designated Safeguarding Officer immediately so that action can be taken.

Professional standards for online teaching and meetings

Staff should always maintain appropriate professional standards when teaching learners or holding meetings online, and this includes displaying the same standards of dress, appearance and conduct as would be expected in the workplace. Additional information regarding safeguarding and remote education can be found at:

<https://swqfl.org.uk/resources/safe-remote-learning>.

UKTD STAFF CODE OF CONDUCT

UKTD's Code of Conduct sets out the standards of behaviours that are expected. This is not an exhaustive list and is in addition to UKTD Safeguarding and Prevent Policies and Procedures.

All staff are required to follow it, unless there is a very good reason not to in a particular situation. In such cases, the reason must be discussed with and agreed by your manager.

- Staff should display the highest possible standards of professional behaviour and conduct when working with learners, and this includes any remote online education.
- Always maintain professional standards of dress and appearance, including when teaching learners remotely or holding meetings online.
- Avoid any unnecessary physical contact at all times.
- Never be left alone with a learner wherever possible. Always conduct all activities openly within the workplace, centre or a public place.
- Never allow yourself to travel with a learner in a car except in an absolute emergency, and then always inform your line manager at the start of your journey and when you have arrived.
- Always give constructive guidance to learners and use appropriate language, as children and young people can be very impressionable.
- Do not give out personal telephone numbers to learners.
- Do not have personal relationships with learners.
- Do not accept learners as 'friends' on Facebook or other social networking sites. If you wish to use social networking for learning, set up a professional profile under your work email address and ensure you have the authorisation of your manager first.
- Ensure that if you wish to post any images of learners, you have their permission and the UKTD Social Media Consent form is signed and returned to the office prior to posting online.
- Do not post messages, status updates or links to material/content that is inappropriate - this includes but is not limited to: pornography, racial or religious slurs, gender-specific comments, information encouraging criminal skills, terrorism or radicalisation, or materials relating to cults, gambling and illegal drugs.
- Do not browse, download, copy, store or distribute inappropriate content (as detailed above) from the internet, email attachments or social media sites.

Code of Conduct for Learners

UKTD is committed to providing the best possible learning experience and setting clear, high and consistent standards of behaviour for both staff and learners. UKTD's Learner Code of Conduct is on OneFile for learners to read and agree to. Tutors will also discuss this with learners during induction and whilst on programme.

SAFEGUARDING AND THE PREVENT DUTY

The Counterterrorism and Security Act 2015 places a statutory duty upon all education providers, "to have due regard to the need to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism". This is known as the Prevent Duty and forms part of the government's wider counter-terrorism strategy called CONTEST. One of the objectives of Prevent and a key area where we can play our part is:

- To safeguard and support those most at risk of radicalisation through early intervention, identifying them and offering support.

All teaching and training providers have a responsibility to comply with the Prevent Duty, as part of their overall safeguarding duty of care, and to educate, support and protect as much as is reasonably possible all learners from the risk of radicalisation and extremism.

British values

Children and young people may be vulnerable to extremist ideology and radicalisation and there is no single way of identifying who might be likely to be susceptible. A key part of the Prevent Duty is to build learner resilience to the threat of radicalisation, challenge extremism, raise awareness and promote the following fundamental British values:

Refer to the UKTD Safeguarding Procedure for the full reporting process.

- Democracy
- Rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths or without faith

Radicalisation online

Radicalisation can happen to anyone at any time; however, one of the biggest platforms where it takes place is via the internet and social media. Young people in particular are so comfortable communicating in this way that they may not be alert to the potential risks of sharing personal information online or being drawn into extremist ideologies.

“The internet is a powerful tool which terrorists exploit to radicalise, groom and recruit vulnerable individuals, and to incite and enable terrorist attacks.”

(CONTEST Strategy 2018)

Staff should be alert to any changes in behaviour that may be an indicator that a child or young person is at risk of radicalisation, and to raise any concerns immediately with a designated safeguarding officer.

Potential indicators may include:

- Use of inappropriate language
- Possession of violent extremist literature
- Behavioural changes
- The expression of extremist views
- Advocating violent actions and means
- Association with known extremists
- Seeking to recruit others to an extremist ideology.

However, if a learner does display one or more of these indicators this does not automatically mean that the learner is at risk of radicalisation, but they may be. If you are unsure or have any concerns, contact your local UKTD DSO for advice.

Educate Against Hate website - The Department for Education and Home Office jointly developed a website called "Educate Against Hate" providing teachers, school leaders and parents with guidance, support and help to achieve the Prevent Duty and the following aims:

- Protect learners from radicalising influences.
- Build learners' resilience to extremist narratives.
- Identify any vulnerabilities or worrying changes in behaviour.
- Know what to do if concerned about a learner.

Their website provides practical advice, support and resources, including a blog of current and informative posts - <https://educateagainsthate.com/teachers/>.

UKTD Prevent Duty objectives are to ensure we:

- have undertaken training and understand our Prevent Duty responsibility.
- are aware of the possible signs that may indicate a learner or colleague is at risk of being radicalised.
- know how to act and report any concerns to a Designated Safeguarding Officer.
- promote British values and help learners to understand and relate to them, by building them into our programmes and creating opportunities for discussion.

UKTD's Prevent Policy must be read alongside the Safeguarding Policy and Procedure.

REPORTING A SAFEGUARDING OR PREVENT CONCERN

If a staff member has a Safeguarding or Prevent concern, or if a learner has disclosed a concern about themselves, this must be reported to a Designated Safeguarding Officer (DSO) or Lead DSO as soon as possible, so that advice and support can be given or prompt action taken if required.

UKTD's Safeguarding Procedure document must be followed, and a summary of the key areas is shown below.

Reporting methods

Reporting your concern can be done in person; by telephone to a DSO or Lead DSO mobile; or via the safe learner email address: safelearner@uktd.co.uk (if non-urgent) and one of the safeguarding team will contact you. If your local DSO or the Lead DSO are not available, you should contact the Managing Director.

In an emergency situation or out of hours, you can report an incident to the police (if immediate action is needed) or contact your local area MASH (Multi Agency Safeguarding Hub) for child protection advice and guidance. The Hertfordshire contact number is 0300 123 4043 and there is a full list of local Safeguarding Reporting Services contact numbers at the back of the UKTD Safeguarding Procedure.

Important: Staff must complete a report on a SIR form as soon as possible after an incident or when any concern is raised, and submit it to the safelearner@uktd.co.uk email address for referral to the Lead Safeguarding Officer and Managing Director.

THE '5 Rs' - Steps to take if a learner discloses information.

A helpful way to remember what steps to take is to follow the '5 Rs'. Please refer to the UKTD Safeguarding Procedure for full details.

The following is an overview of the 5 steps of this process and key points:

- 1) 'Recognise' – be alert to the signs of abuse.
- 2) 'Respond' – listen, accept, reassure, explain, follow procedure.
- 3) 'Report' – as soon as possible to your DSO or Lead DSO
- 4) 'Record' – make a written record of what has been alleged/suspected.
- 5) 'Refer' – do not try and investigate yourself. DSOs will refer to an external agency, if required.

The "Notice, Check, Share" procedure would also apply for a Prevent concern - https://www.elearning.prevent.homeoffice.gov.uk/prevent_referrals/99-accessibility-script.html

Safeguarding training and awareness raising

UKTD is committed to supporting and training all staff, particularly those who work with or who come into contact with learners. All new staff receive Safeguarding and Prevent induction training and are required to complete online training. UKTD also runs in-house Safeguarding and Prevent refresher training sessions and provides ongoing support and guidance, as part of one-to-ones, team meetings and CPD.

UKTD's Designated Safeguarding Team undertake additional training, to enable them to deliver training sessions and offer advice and guidance to staff regarding Safeguarding, Child Protection and Prevent matters.

As part of UKTD's ongoing integration of Safeguarding and British values into our course programmes, they are included in Learner Handbooks, Employer and Parent Guides, British Values and Wellbeing activity booklets, and learning resources/videos available on OneFile eportfolio. These resources are regularly reviewed to ensure the materials are relevant and supportive and assist both learner and staff understanding.

RUN, HIDE, TELL - Keeping safe in an incident.

The National Counter Terrorism Security Office recommends three key steps for keeping safe in the event of a gun, knife or terrorist attack. The advice is, if caught up in an incident, to RUN to safety, HIDE if you cannot, and TELL the police when you are safe. These safety precautions are included in the Learner Handbook and tutors discuss them with learners at the beginning of their course programme.

The following training videos give clear guidance on what to do and how to stay safe in an incident situation:

ENGAGEMENT WITH EXTERNAL PARTNERS

We will ensure that all employers are aware of UKTD Policies and Procedures regarding Safeguarding and Prevent and understand that they have a responsibility to the learners they employ. This has formed part of the employer contract since May 2017. It also forms part of the Employer Handbook, and UKTD will work with employers to ensure they undertake their responsibilities, which include:

- To understand what is meant by safeguarding and to promote the welfare, safety and wellbeing of all learners.
- To be aware of their duty of care towards the welfare of learners on apprenticeship programmes.
- To ensure that employees who work alongside learners are of sound character and judgement and will not pose any threat or danger to learners.
- To be familiar with UKTD policy guidance and expectations and report any concerns following the '5 Rs' safeguarding reporting procedure.
- To understand what is meant by PREVENT and the signs to look out for, which may indicate that a person is being radicalised.

In order for us to carry out our duty of care responsibilities effectively, we work closely with employers to safeguard our learners, and to provide information, support and guidance where it is required. Health and safety vetting of an employer's premises is completed at sign up and monitored on an annual basis. Learners also receive Health & Safety training as part of their induction and qualification.

External Speakers - it is the responsibility of any UKTD staff member, who may organise external speakers or events, to ensure that a safe learning environment is provided for learners by submitting to the Lead Safeguarding Officer, a completed External Speaker/Event Risk Assessment form (FS0276), as part of the Safeguarding and Prevent risk assessment process.

CONCERNS OR ALLEGATIONS AGAINST A MEMBER OF STAFF

UKTD recognises that an allegation of child abuse against a member of staff may be made for a variety of reasons, and the facts of the allegation may or may not be true.

Any concerns or allegations received will be taken seriously; including low level concerns (i.e., staff taking photographs of children on their mobile phones without prior agreement) All concerns and allegations will be treated with sensitivity and care; dealt with in a fair and consistent way; and investigated promptly and thoroughly. It is also essential that any allegation of abuse “provides effective protection for the child, and at the same time supports the person who is the subject of the allegation.” (KCSIE 2022)

If an allegation being dealt with is regarding a supply tutor or contracted staff, it should still be dealt with properly and UKTD safeguarding procedures apply. Part 4 of KCSIE 2022 guidance covers this in detail.

Possible reasons for concerns or allegations to be made.

A concern or allegation may be made against a member of staff (or supply staff) volunteer, employer or anyone working with learners identifying that he or she has:

- Humiliated Learners.
- Taken photos without prior agreement.
- behaved in a way that has harmed a child or may have harmed a child.
- possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child.
- behaved towards a child or children in a way that indicates he or she may pose a risk of harm to children.
- behaved or may have behaved in a way that indicates they may not be suitable to work with children.

If a staff member has a concern or an allegation is made regarding another member of staff, this should be referred to UKTD’s Managing Director immediately and recorded on an SIR form. The Managing Director will discuss the matter with the Lead DSO and HR Manager and, if serious, contact will be made with external agencies or the police, as appropriate. Please refer to the UKTD Safeguarding Procedure for full details.

Support for staff member – support will be given to any member of staff who is facing an allegation, and the individual will be informed about the concern or allegation as soon as possible, with an explanation of the likely course of action (unless asked not to by the Police or Children’s Services). If an employee is suspended, they will be provided with a named contact for throughout this process. The individual will also be advised to contact their trade union representative (if they have one) or approach a colleague for support and be given access to welfare counselling.

Learning Lessons - “For all other cases, where the allegation concluded to be either, unfounded, false, malicious or unsubstantiated the case manager (and if they have been involved the LADO) should consider the facts and determine whether any lessons can be learned and if improvements can be made.”

If the allegation involves an employer – in this situation, the Lead DSO would discuss the nature, content and context of the allegation with UKTD’s Managing Director and agree a course of action. This may include a meeting being arranged between the employer and Lead DSO to investigate the matter, gather further information and escalate if required. If a more serious matter, contact will be made with a safeguarding partner, children’s social care services or the police, as appropriate. In all cases, the best interests of the learner must be the highest priority when handling these situations.

Legal duty to refer to the DBS - if a member of staff in a regulated activity is dismissed or removed due to safeguarding concerns, or would have been had they not resigned, a referral must be made by the HR Manager to the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS). Referrals should be made as soon as possible, and this would normally be on conclusion of an investigation. Further information can be found at:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/collections/dbs-referrals-guidance--2>

WHISTLEBLOWING POLICY

UKTD staff should feel able to raise concerns about any poor or unsafe safeguarding practice(s) or arrangements and know that they will be taken seriously. The Whistleblowing Policy provides a means of making a serious allegation in a way that will ensure confidentiality and protect those making the allegation in good faith from being victimised, discriminated against or disadvantaged.

Every effort will be made not to reveal a whistle-blower’s identity unless the whistle-blower otherwise requests. However, if the matter is subsequently dealt with through other UKTD procedures such as the Disciplinary Procedure, the whistle-blower’s identity may have to be revealed in accordance with that procedure, if the matter is to be dealt with effectively. Similarly, if the allegation results in court proceedings, then the whistle-blower may have to give evidence in open court, if the case is to be successful.

Whistleblowing allegations will be managed by UKTD’s Reporting Officers:

- Managing Director, Theresa Wisniewski
- Human Resources Manager, Janice Dutton

The NSPCC also provides a free Whistleblowing Advice Line which offers advice and support to professionals who are concerned about how child protection is being managed within their organisation. The Advice Line can be contacted on 0800 028 0285 8am to 8pm, Monday to Friday or by email: help@nspcc.org.uk

A copy of the full UKTD Whistleblowing Policy can be requested from the HR Manager.

SAFER RECRUITMENT POLICY

UKTD is committed to creating a culture of safety and wellbeing and has appropriate safer recruitment procedures and checks in place. The purpose of the Safer Recruitment Policy is to set out the requirements of UKTD's recruitment process which aims to:

- Clearly convey to any prospective applicants that UKTD are committed to the safeguarding of children, young people and at-risk adults.
- Deter prospective applicants who are unsuitable to work with children / young people or at-risk adults.
- Attract the best possible applicants to vacancies.
- Identify and reject applicants who are unsuitable to work with children and young people or at-risk adults.

As part of our safer recruitment measures and according to the positions being offered, we will request an Enhanced DBS check on all learner-facing staff. However, where the vetting agency refuses to conduct such a check on the grounds that our tutors and managers are not in regulated activity, we will ask the applicant to undertake a Basic Check.

References will also be taken up and checked. Recruitment adverts, reference requests and job descriptions will include details of UKTD's commitment to safeguarding and promoting learner welfare. A Single Central Record is held in the Human Resources Department detailing the checks conducted on all staff, including DBS clearance where applicable.

UKTD SAFEGUARDING COMMITMENT

UKTD wish to promote ways in which all staff, including the employers with whom we work, can put their own measures into practice to ensure, as far as is reasonably practicable, the health, safety and welfare of children and vulnerable groups.

This will be achieved by:

- Ensuring a Safer Recruitment Policy is followed and a clear message is sent out that UKTD is committed to safeguarding.
- Providing new staff with robust training during induction on Safeguarding, Health & Safety, and Equality, Diversity and Inclusion Policies.
- Providing a clear code of conduct for staff to follow, to avoid poor professional practice and also to protect staff from the risk of false allegations of abuse.
- Providing staff with ongoing refresher training and opportunities to undertake further development in safeguarding, equality, and diversity.
- Ensuring opportunities are available for all learners to participate in learning in an enjoyable and safe environment, regardless of age, culture, disability, gender, language spoken, racial origin, religious belief, sexual orientation, or financial circumstances.
- Taking all reasonable steps to protect children, young people and at-risk adults from harm by abuse (physical, sexual, psychological, emotional or financial) neglect or discrimination and to respect their rights, wishes and feelings.
- UKTD use a filtering system to prevent harmful content being accessed on the internet when using a UKTD device.

- Taking swift action and appropriate measures to investigate all suspicions, allegations of poor practice or abuse.
- Ensuring all learners are helped to develop their safeguarding knowledge and understanding of how to be a safe learner.
